A head-and-shoulders portrait of Dr. David A. Clark. He is a middle-aged man with dark hair, wearing glasses and a dark jacket over a light-colored shirt. He is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.
